HOME LEARNING

I have put more RWI videos on Tapestry linked to the sounds we have been learning over the last couple of weeks (set 2).

Each week the RWI book we have read at school will be available on Oxford Owl for you to showcase at home with a related quiz to complete.

Soft Bear will continue to choose a friend to go home with each weekend. He will bring his bag and a special book to share.

Soft Bear loves reading and would enjoy seeing the special stories you have at home too!

Dear Parents and carers

We have had another very busy week!

We went to Beach School on Tuesday and had to be super observant. We had to find different items on the beach according to colour and property (smooth, bumpy, round, square, straight). We then had to sort the items into the different properties. We learnt some octopus facts and then made a joint garden an octopus would love!

We have been finding out about our focus artist Yvonne Coomber. We watched a short clip about how she works and what inspires her artwork. We then chose a piece of her work to talk about (why we like/do not like it, how it makes us feel and which season it reminds us of).

In RE we have been continuing our learning about belonging and have found out about why and how children are christened.

In RHE we have been thinking about how our families are all different and unique but all special. We have been thinking about what adults we would talk to at home or at school if we had any worries. Our families work has tied in nicely with a new song we have been learning (and love singing!), 'what makes a family'.

Many thanks,
Mrs Attwood

Our Vision & Values Hope

This week we have been exploring how we are all special in the eyes of the lord.

Genesis 1:31 "And God saw all that He had made, and behold, it was very good."
