Please read at least 4 times a week. Repetition builds recognition of unfamiliar words to make them easier to recall and read at speed. Please log in to Oxford Owl, read the book and take the quiz.

Reading Journals

Friday is book swap day. Please return your child's reading books ready for them to receive a new one based on their reading this week.

PE

Dear Parents and carers.

Firstly, I would like to start with an apology. I moved house last week and with the frenzy of activity, I completely forgot to write a newsletter and give Brown Bear to someone for the weekend. Rest assured; he had a fantastic time carrying heavy boxes a long way!

This week, the children have been very focussed and have produced some very whizzy learning! We started the week as geographers and explored the United Kingdom using atlases. We discovered the seas that surround the British Isles.

In maths this week, we have built upon our multiplication understanding to start learning about division. Thankfully we are superstars at times tables, which has really helped. Playing TTRS is a must for building their fluency in recalling their times table facts.

We thought very carefully about what animals need for survival in science and as artists we continued learning about Clover Robin and have continued making art using collage.

If you have any questions about anything, don't hesitate to ask or make an appointment to catch up with me.
