Dear Parents and carers.

How amazing the children have been this week. They have really shown their values of love, community and especially wisdom this week as they have shown their ability to adapt to changes.

They have been enjoying the wider areas of the curriculum in particular this week. Their musical abilities have been put to the test as they have been matching the beat in songs and using instruments to join in with the rhythm.

For world book day yesterday, the children read, 'The Ugly Five.' They had a great time writing a book review for their friends and making bookmarks.

As mathematicians, the children have been learning about measure. Comparing lengths of things and deciding whether to measure using metres or centimetres.

I wish everyone a wonderful weekend and I look forward to seeing you all on Monday morning.
